

Ovarian Cancer
NATIONAL ALLIANCE
We Work To Save Women's Lives

By now I hope you have heard the amazing news: in partnership with Stand Up To Cancer, Ovarian Cancer Research Fund and the National Ovarian Cancer Coalition, we are launching a Dream Team dedicated to ovarian cancer!

One year ago, the Dream Team was just a crazy idea. I had recently met with Sung Poblete, the President and CEO of Stand Up To Cancer, and one of their co-founders, Sue Schwarz, to talk about the work their organization does. I was so impressed with the collaborative model of Stand Up To Cancer's Dream Teams and inspired by the groundbreaking treatments they have discovered. The thought: "What if we could create a Dream Team for ovarian cancer?" was spoken out loud. We knew this could be a game-changer.

As I shared my idea with our board, and with the leaders of Ovarian Cancer Research Fund and the National Ovarian Cancer Coalition, they immediately saw the same possibilities that I did. We were all committed to working together and transforming the course of ovarian cancer.

Along the way, other ovarian cancer groups joined our cause and pledged their support for the Stand Up To Cancer-Ovarian Cancer Research Fund-Ovarian Cancer National Alliance-National Ovarian Cancer Coalition Ovarian Cancer Dream Team recognizing that we couldn't do this alone, but we could do something great together.

Later this month, a call for ideas will be issued for the Ovarian Cancer Dream Team. You can follow along with this and other updates on our website. I hope that you are as excited as we are about the potential promise of this new Dream Team!

With warm regards,

Calaneet Balas, CEO
